CHARLEROI FIREMEN SAVE ROW OF HOUSES IN COAL CENTER

JUDGE SENTENCES TO NUMBER OF 32

Accused Enter Pleas of Guilty to Various Infractions of Law — Majority Are Guilty of Violations of Liquor Laws

THOSE WHO ARE ASSESSED

Several Persons Who Enter Pleas of Guilty to Driving Automobiles While Intoxicated—Fine And Imprisonment — Other Cases Coming Before Court

Thirty-two defendants, who entered pleas of guilty to various infractions of law, were sentenced yesterday by Judge Cummins in a session of court which occupied most of the afternoon. The majority of the defendants were guilty of violation of the liquor laws and the usual sentences were imposed in most instances.

Sentences of costs, fines of $200 and four months to jail were imposed for manufacture and unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor on the following: Joe Yaros, Canton township; Walter Pawlock, West Pike Run township; Steve Senko, Donora; Stanislaw Grecci, Donora; Tony Sheleski, East Pike Run township.

The following for unlawful possession of liquor were given costs, $200 fine and three months to jail: Karl Zikowski, Meadowlands; Fortunato Doches, Avella; Louis Erdora, East Pike Run township; Ernest Knox, Burgettstown; Mike Kalai, East Pike Run township.

Several persons who entered pleas of guilty to driving automobiles while intoxicated were sentenced as follows: John Haba, Crossereek, $200 fine and two months to jail; J. C. Williams, Waynesburg, $100 fine or 30 days to jail; Thomas Matthews, $100 fine or 30 days to jail; Joe Snomick, Vestaburg, $100 fine or 30 days to jail; Andy Brosky, $200 and two months to jail.

Andy Rosky, of Centerville, before court for the second time for violation of the liquor laws was given a fine of $500 and seven months in the workhouse. Edward Davis, a Pittsburgh colored man, arrested at Lincoln Hill July 12, by Sergeant E. T. Cohee, of the State police, for bootlegging was given a $500 fine and seven months to the workhouse. When arrested Davis had a suit case containing 25 half-pints of moonshine bottled ready for delivery.

James Disken, who was caught in the Ligonier Supply Company store in Raccoon on June 30 was given costs, a fine of $1 and four months to the workhouse. He had just got in the store but had not taken anything when apprehended. Another man who was with him made his escape.

Bert Redman, of Monongahela, accused by Edward J. Elkins of aggravated assault and malicious mischief, was given $1 fine, costs and 24 days in jail. He had been in jail just 24 days and so drew his release with his sentence. Both parties are colored.

James Stewart, colored, a left-over from the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, who was found in the home of T. A. Williams, South Strabane township, the night after the circus was in Washington was sent to Huntingdon reformatory.

Lyle Smith, a Burgettstown lad, accused by Lee Brown of using his automobile without his consent, was released on prabation on the payment of costs. It seems that a number of Burgettstown lads have made a practice of taking cars of other persons for short rides and the officers have been endeavoring to break up this practice.

Henry Taylor, colored, of Ahrensburg, Fayette county, arrested at Charleroi for carrying concealed weapons was given six months to the workhouse.

John Millich for obtaining $30 on a fraudulent check was given a fine of $100 and three months to jail.

William Womack for taking matches into the Lincoln Hill mine was given a fine of $10, and Harry McClure, mine foreman at the Eclipse mine in Peters township, for a technical violation of the mining law, was given a fine of $20.

Peter Martin of Chartiers township, almost blind, who pleaded guilty to bootlegging, was given costs, fine of $100 and two months to jail.

We had a feeling last night, as one of the crowded house that thronged the theatre, as we sat watching "Monsieur Beaucaire" on the screen at the Coyle theatre, that we were not looking at a screen production but that in some magic fashion we were back in the 18th century, a silent spectator in the glittering court of that dissolute monarch, Louis XV of France. From which you may gather that the vehicle, which marks Rudolph Valentino's return to the screen, is something more than a spectacular, romantic, costume-drama. It is a living, breathing document, vivid historically accurate and fascinating.

Manager Coyle is to be congratulated on securing pieces of this character oftimes before even the Pittsburgh theatres. The films are among the most remarkable of any ever seen here.

Warm Wave Is Coming Out of the West

Washington, Aug. 19.—A warm wave with showe rs is coming out of the West to rescue the Atlantic seaboard from the cool spell, the weather bureau announced today.

Unusual August weather has been reported all along the Atlantic coast from Vermont where th e mercury dropped to 40 degrees last night to Richmond, Virginia, where a low mark of 54 was registered In Washington last night a low mark of 53 was reached, while during the day it was 72.

This is about the average for all the districts along the seaboard from Main to Virginia.

The cool spell descended upon the east Sunday night and little change has been manifested since. The change is expected tonight or tomorrow.

COURSES IN RADIO ARE TO BE GIVEN

Correspondence courses in radio reception and transmission are offered by the engineering extension department of the Pennsylvania State College. More students have enrolled in the radio course than in any other of the correspondence courses.

FLAMES SPREAD PREVENTED BY FIRE FIGHTERS

The timely arrival of the Charleroi Fire department this morning at 5 o'clock saved the inevitable destruction of a row of residences in Coal Center and possibly the loss of life, when they checked the rapid spread of a two-story frame dwelling known as the old Killius homestead, the last house in Coal Center along the west side of the Pennsylvania railroad, and badly damaged the adjoining dwelling.

The fire, which was of unknown origin, started in the unoccupied dwelling owned by Miss Ella Killius, who moved out of the house two years ago. The house, situated on the hillside, had begun to slide and was in too dangerous a condition for occupancy. Estimated loss to the Killius home is $5,000, while it will probably cost about $1,000 to repair the adjoining dwelling.

Smoke seen issuing from the windows of the structure by miners on their way to work, an alarm was put in for the California fire department, which responded immediately, but were unable to get near the scene of the flames on account of a freight train that blocked the Coal Center crossing extending a great distance on either side of the crossing. The conductor explained that he had pulled three drawheads and was unable to move the freight until repairs were made. The firemen were completely handicapped The Charleroi firemen were then called and did effective work in extinguishing the flames.

There was little prevailing wind, which was greatly in favor of the Coal Center residents, but the work of the Charleroi firemen saved this section from one of the largest fires that would have visited this section in years, for which the residents of both California and Coal Center are thankful.

FATE SEEMS TO BE AGAINST THE BIRD MEN

Reykjavik, Iceland, August 19. — Fate again has intervened in the final dash of the American round-the-world jaunters and today they wait impatiently for the arrival of the U. S. S Richmond with repair parts for their damaged ships.

After being delayed by bad weather, fogs, ice packs, a fair day arrived for the flight to Greenland yesterday. But in the attempt to take off with an over-supply of petrol both planes were damaged.

Plane No. 2 has a broken propeller and plane No. 4 has a shattered spreader bar. No supplies are on hand here and the flight to Greenland now is definitely postponed until the Richmond arrives with the new propellers and spreader bar. It will take one day for the fliers to make repairs on the planes, so the get-away now would scarcely be possible before Thursday or Friday.

The next jump will be to Frederiksdal, Greenland, a hop of 825 miles from the present base. The landing point is on the southernmost tip of Greenland and just a short hop from Ivigtut, the western base of the Greenland stop.

The fliers will use the base at Fredericsdal owing to heavy ice packs which surround the bay at Angmasalik, originally selected as the landing place.

Women Believe State Will Be For Coolidge

New York, N. Y., ug. 19.—Mrs Hannah Durham, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania and Mrs. J. Willis Martin attended the a of women leaders at the eastern headquarters of the Republican National Committee here this week. They represented Mrs. Barclay Warburton, national committeewoman for Pennsylvania and gave a report of the Republican work in Pennsylvania which won a round of applause from the women leaders from the other states.

"We know that Pennsylvania will go strongly for President Coolidge, General Dawes and a Republican Congress," declared Mrs. Martin. "We intend to carry the campaign especially into the fifteen counties which make up six congressional districts now represented by Democrats. We want to see these districts again represented by Republicans."

One of the special features of the campaign in Pennsylvania will be speakers' schools to train women to carry the issues to the voters.

The women met at the eastern headquarters of the Republican National Committee, 2 West 46th street, New York city.

LEGIONNAIRES TO MEET IN GREENSBURG

FIRE FORCES 300 FAMILIES TO FLEE FROM THEIR HOMES

than 300 families were forced to flee their homes when a fire starting in a furniture storage plant threatened to destroy an entire block early today.

A watchman in the building is believed to have been burned to death. He is known to have been in the building and police and firemen have been unable to find him.

Fire departments from Weehawken, West Hoboken, North Bergen and Union Hill were called when the fire got beyond the control of the local companies.

At 8 o'clock the warehouse and an adjoining building were a total loss with firemen fighting to save the rest of the block.

The flames were under control shortly after 9 o'clock. The watchman is still missing, but police have been unable to learn if he lost his life in the fire.

Damage was estimated at over $200,000.

Ten Thousand Guests Are Expected For the Three-Day Convention Beginning On Thursday—Local Post Members Going

TRANSPORTATION IS FREE

Parade Day Is Saturday—Hope Held That General John J. Pershing Will Be Present — Large Delegations Expected From Various Counties

The state convention of the American Legion will be held in Greensburg on August 21, 22 and 23. The local post is providing free transportation for all members and ex-service men. All ex-service men who wish to attend the big parade Saturday afternoon, are requested to meet in the Dugout at noon on that day, parade day. Greensburg expects 10,000 guests.

Word is still being awaited from General John J. Pershing as to whether he can attend. A dozen other distinguished speakers have accepted invitations, counties are sending large delegations, and a spirited fight for the next meeting and choice of the next commander and vice commander are expected.

To add to the interest, two of the Legion's principal planks will come up for ratification. One deals with care for the disabled; the other with the organization's medal awards to grammar school pupils.

The state Legion has attacked the problem of the disabled veteran by engaging two men—one in each end of the state—to devote full time to cases which have not been settled by the United States veterans' bureau. The western half of the state is being looked after, in this regard, by Joseph J. Bereznay, a member of the Clairton post.

The medal awards, a step in which Pennsylvania pioneered, has met with such support that it is likely to be amplified by the convention delegates during the next year. Instead of awarding medals to boys alone, girls also may be included generally.

Each post awards a medal to the boy or girl in each school on a basis

$1,000 Reward Offered By County Commissioners In Outrage At Slovan

Meeting yesterday, the commissioners of Washington county offered a reward of $1,000 for the apprehension of the persons responsible for the dynamiting outrage at Slovan early last Friday morning in an attack on Justice of the Peace Henry W. Tennyson, of that place, which resulted in practically the demolition of his residence and the damaging of many others.

Placards were ordered printed immediately by Sheriff Otto Luellen and last evening were being distributed throughout the county and especially in the Burgettstown district.

Postmaster Mike Humenick and his son-in-law, William Serenia, both of Slovan, who were arrested Saturday, were still confined in the county jail last night. Their bail was not fixed by the court during the day.

LOVE ESSENTIAL TO MARRIAGE

Pittsburgh, Pa., ug. 19.—"Marriage without love is impossible" wrote Mrs. Herbert M. Cooley, missing McKeesport bride, in letters to her parents and husband.

Mrs. Cooley, who left her husband in an Erie hotel after a honeymoon of six days, declared she decided she did not love him and therefore was on her way to accept a position as teacher in a high school in Virginia or West Virginia.

The letters, which were mailed from Meadville, Pa., said she was sorry but that she couldn't come back as Cooley's wife. "There is no other man in the case," she wrote.

She expressed the wish that her parents and husband would call off the police and detectives who have been searching in three states for her since she disappeared July 22.

Allenport Man Answers Summons While At Work On Motor Boat

While repairing his motor boat on the Monongahela river near the Allenport ferry, Martin L. Bowen, aged 66 years and 7 months, well-known Monongahela valley resident, of Allenport, was suddenly stricken with heart failure yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and fell over backwards in the boat. He was discovered by Ferdinand Libois of Allenport, who was rowing on the river, and called to the man's grandson, Jack Berg, walking along the shore. Dr. Haynes was called, but Mr. Bowen was beyond earthly skil. The body was brought to Charleroi by Deputy Coroner M. T. Crowley and identification made, and later turned over to Undertaker L. B. Frye and prepared for burial.

Mr. Bowen, a sub-station operator in the Pittsburgh Steel Products company at Allenport, made his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest C. Berg, of Allenport. Before moving to Allenport about five years ago, he lived in New Eagle, where he spent most of his life. He was a member of the Knights of Malta of Monongahela and a member of the Riverview Baptist church.

He is survived by four children, Mrs. Ernest C. Berg, of Allenport, Mrs. Ed. Brady of Monongahela, Kirk Bowen of West Elizabeth and Jack Bowen of Donora.

Funeral services will take place on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the Berg home followed by interment in the Taylor cemetery.

H. O. HORNBAKE NEW POSTMASTER

Former Burgess Herbert O. Hornbake of Brownsville has been appointed as acting postmaster of South Brownsville, on the recommendation of Congressman Samuel A. Kendall, succeeding Mrs. Willa Saylor Saxon, who will reside hereafter in Fredericktown.

The South Brownsville post office is a presidential office, second class, and pays about $2,500 a year.

Mr. Hornbake is a well-known business man, being engaged in the insurance business along with his justice of the peace work.

Until the Armstrong Drug Company went out of business, he was in active charge of that concern for many years.

Mr. Hornbake is interested in civic affairs and is a member of the South Brownsville fire company.

TRESSELL DENIED LICENSE BY COURT

The application of J. L. Tressell for a license to operate a private detective agency in California is refused by the court in an adjudication handed down yesterday by Judge Erwin Cummins In giving reasons for this refusal, the court states "that it would constitute in substance an overriding of the will of the people declared in a public election, and that the applicant's admitted previous record in the enforcement of the prohibition laws does not establish his competency as an officer."

The court suggests to those interested in law enforcement that the employment of a private detective whose identity is not known is more effective than the employment of one who is known by the law breakers. The court adds that it is as much the duty of the chief of police to enforce the laws, as of a constable. Within the jurisdiction all limits of the municipality, their authority in this regard is concurrent. The court refers to this because police officers too frequently neglect to prosecute violations of the law unless they occur openly on the public street.

J. L. Tressell, formerly chief of police of California, for two years, filed an application on May 12, 1924, to operate a private detective agency in that borough. He had been dismissed as chief of police by the borough council before that time, and at the last general election was a candidate for the office of constable, but was defeated by a considerable majority.

When he filed an application for a detective license, considerable opposition developed, and the hearing held by the court lasted several days. Tressell alleged that those who opposed his election as constable, the town council that dismissed him, and the remonstrants who opposed his appointment, represented the lawless element, and the court was asked to so hold, to pass judgment on the character and motives of those who voted at his election, and "in substance to revoke the will of the people as publicly declared in that election by subterfuge of pretending to appoint him a private detective, with the understanding that he shall in fact perform the functions of a public officer." The court states that it has no right to do this for reasons which are obvious.

Those in favor of the application allege that in California there are frequent violations of the prohibition laws. This, the court states, is undoubtedly true, and their desire for [illegible] "but the applicant's own testimony," says the court, "to the effect that, during the two years that he served as chief of police, he himself brought but two prosecutions for violations of the liquor laws, does not give promise of any real improvement in law enforcement, even if the other circumstances above referred to permitted of his appointment. The integrity of the applicant has been established, but not his competency, as his past service must speak for it."

FOLK CAN MAKE WINE SAYS THE COURT

That a man has the right to manufacture wine and fruit juices on his own premises for his exclusive use, is the opinion of the Washington court in the case of the commonwealth against Dominic Asturino which was handed down yesterday. This is a test case in which the defendant is charged with the unlawful manufacture and possession of intoxicating liquor.

The defendant had manufactured wine in his home at Dinsmore, which led to his arrest. This is the first case in the state which deals with the manufacture of wine under the prohibition laws and a special verdict was returned by the jury on May 9, finding that he had manufactured wine. This case was tried as a test case, by agreement in order to secure judicial construction of a portion of the act of March 27, 1923, with the understanding that from whatever conclusion was reached by this court, appeal would be taken.

In the opinion, Judge Erwin Cummins finds that the defendant is not guilty of the charge of which he stands indicted, and judgment is entered against the commonwealth.

The court holds that the manufacture of fruit juice and cider generally [illegible] the judgment of Judge Cummins, in a majority of cases there is a violation. To come within the exception the fruit juice or cider must be non-intoxicating when the process of manufacture is fully completed, and when the process of manufacture ends must depend largely in each case upon the intention of the manufacturer. This covers wine that is non-intoxicating when the process of manufacture is completed.

THE MAIN QUESTION.

That sober-minded and rather plain-spoken Republican journal, the Ohio State Journal, some days since stated the main question upon which hinges the result of the election in November. It said:

"The first thing for which experienced and unbiased political observers will watch is the impression which Mr. Davis seems to make when he takes off his coat and goes to work. More depends on that than on anything else. It will be his effort to convince the country that it ought to be a change and that he is the man to make it. Perhaps the chances are against him, but no one can say definitely at this time that he will not succeed. The next thing which the sensible political observer will try to fathom will be the depth of the country's reaction against the recent faithlessness of certain Republicans in office. Does the preponderance of sentiment in the debatable states seem to be that the Republican party merits a rebuke and that President Coolidge, despite his own high character, must be the vicarious sacrifice?"

This does appear to be the main question that awaits the answer of the ballot boxes. Only the reckless prophet or the calculatingly optimistic partisan now seems ready to say what that answer will be. Others, until the ballots are counted, will be inclined to say that the result is sufficiently uncertain as to be described as "on the knees of the gods."

Cuddy DeMarco Knocks Out Tony Ross at Martins Ferry
Harry Fay Hangs Knockout on Billy McGowan in Louisville
Eddie Pinchot Has Battle On Hands for Tonight in Charleroi

Cuddy DeMarco kept his promise with his manager, "Red" Mason last night, and after only two and a half rounds of milling with Tony Ross, one of his oldest foes, he knocked out Tony Ross winning a clean-cut victory.

It will be remembered that on Friday night of last week, DeMarco, in fighting Dickie Conlin of Altoona, at Braddock in the first three rounds was slow and did not make his usual showing and was reprimanded by his

In coming back last night DeMarco showed the fans that he was in perfect condition and in knocking out Tony Ross, one of the toughest boys in his class in the third round of a 10-round main bout, he has shown that he means business.

In coming right along after this comes the statement in the Pittsburgh morning papers today that Cuddy DeMarco will meet Tommy O'Brien of Milwaukee, another Junior lightweight. The fight will take place at the Queenstown A. C., of Brooklyn, N. Y., Monday, August 25.

Our local flash is scheduled for another fight on Thursday night of this week, meaning that after his battle Friday night at Braddock and defeating one of the best boys in the game, he started out last night and went to Martins Ferry and knocked out Tony Ross, comes back on Thursday night and meets another battler of note and on next Monday night he has to be in Brooklyn for one of the hardest tests of his whole career.

The fans are pulling for Cuddy and all hope that he will get through with the hardest schedule of his whole career.

The morning Pittsburgh papers goes on to tell about Cuddy's victory last night. A left uppercut to the pit of the stomach sent Ross down for the full count a short time after he had been floored by a right to the jaw.

Harry Fay, a native of Shady avenue, Charleroi, last night at Louisville, Kentucky, knocked out Billy McGowan of Atlanta, Ga., in seven rounds of what was supposed to be a 12-round fight.

It was a complete victory for the Charleroi aspirant to Jack Dempsey's title of heavyweight champion of the world. While Harry Fay is at the present time only fighting at 172 pounds, he is going faster and getting better in every fight, and while [illegible] ent time, the next two or three years will probably make a big difference in his weight and condition.

In his fight last night, a telegram to the Mail today from Charley Jones, his manager, that he dropped McGowan four times for the count of nine in the seventh round before he finally sent him out with a left hook to the jaw in which the Atlanta man never came back.

Coming as it does at this time Fay's victory over McGowan is wonderful news to the fight fans in Western Pennsylvania, and particularly in Charleroi. Among his local friends, and his associates at the Hill Top Athletic club, where Harry Fay received his first training and learned the things about the fight game, together with Cuddy DeMarco, Eddie Pinchot, Bricky Ryan and Young Carmen, who is at the present time one of the biggest attractions out in California.

To the Hill Top Athletic club goes much of the credit to the fight victories that has been won among Charleroi's young men.

Young McGowan of Atlanta, Ga., whom Harry Fay knocked out last night, is reputed to be one of the best boys in the South and had he not been defeated by Fay last night, he was in line with a match with Young Stribling at the Polo Grounds, New York, in which event the task will probably fall to Harry Fay. In case it does, the fight between Young Stribling at the Polo Grounds, New York, will be one of the biggest events in outside sports of the fall season.

Bill Phillips, John K. Tener and Barney Wolf will pitch a few innings each.

EX-BIG LEAGUERS TO PLAY CHARLEROI THURSDAY, 4 P. M.

A game that will probably draw the largest attendance of the season is scheduled for Thursday afternoon at the Charleroi Baseball park, time 4 o'clock, when the stars of bygone days will meet the Charleroi club. Manager D. Cleve Matheis will have his regular lineup in the field, with "Dick" Latriam essaying to fool the sluggers of other days.

In the lineup of the big ex-leaguers will be found such whilom stars as the Hon. John K. Tener, erstwhile star hurler for the Chicago National League team, in the days when Captain Anson and the "stonewall" infield were wont to cavort on many a hard-fought diamond; Mr. Tener will pitch; then there will be the only Hans or Honus Wagner, who will play shortstop, Jock Menefee, second base; "Bill" Phillips, Sr., third base; Deacon Phillipe, left field; Arch Osborne, middle field; John Jerkins, right field; Addison Gumbert, substitute; Bob Coulson, formerly of the Brooklyn Nationals, Ody Abbott, formerly of the St. Louis Nationals.

All roads from all the Elks clubs and fight fans throughout this part of Pennsylvania will lead to the Charleroi baseball park this evening when Eddie Pinchot of Charleroi will make an effort to make his initial debut in the light weight class in the fistic world, when he meets Chris Newton, Canadian light weight champion.

There is much interest in this fight in the Pittsburgh district. Sporting writers from Pittsburgh are showing interest in the match, along the line that they want to see whether Eddie is able to stand the test in that class. The Pittsburgh morning papers today are all running stories of some of the big things that Pinchot done when he fought in his own class.

Chris Newton came to Charleroi last week, and has been working out at the Hill Top Athletic club while Eddie Pinchot has been working out at the Olympic Athletic club in Monessen. They are both down to weight. They are scheduled to weigh in at 3 o'clock this afternoon and fighting weight to be 130 pounds. Young Pinchot who formerly was a member of the Hilltop Athletic club of Charleroi is now boxing instructor at the Olympic club in Monessen, and last night the Monessen fans ordered a block of 100 tickets and they will be here tonight to root for Pinchot.

This will be the second fight held in Charleroi under the new McBride law, and the officials have all been chosen by the state fight commission and the new McBride law will be carried out to the letter.

The Charleroi Elks tonight will make an effort to out rival the Braddock Elks when on last Monday night they held one of the most successful and one of the biggest boxing shows at the Edgar Thompson park, Braddock, that has ever been held in this part of the state.

The show will start promptly at 8:15, and it is estimated that one of the biggest crowds that ever attended a boxing show in the upper Monongahela valley will be here tonight to witness what is thought to be the best card that has ever been put on in a local boxing fight.

FORMER PITCHER FOR THE PIRATES HALTS MARCH TOWARD FLAG

TO HOLD FAIR TO SECURE FIRE EQUIPMENT

In order that California and vicinity might secure a fire fighting apparatus to safely protect themselves from loss of property and life by fire, a committee composed of representatives of fraternal and civic organizations are making elaborate plans for a Community Street carnival that will be held on Wood street from Third street to the station, California, August 28 to September 3. The carnival will be on the same line as that of Charleroi's, with the various booths beautifully decorated, placed here and there about the streets.

The committee, in charge of Earl W. Taylor, as chairman, and Frank G. Latta, treasurer, have already secured $4,000 towards the new truck, and this week personal subscriptions are being solicited. It is confidently expected that $5,000 will be raised in this manner.

The California district is comprised of the small towns of Coal Center, Phillipsburg, East Pike Run township, Granville, Daisytown, in fact as far out as Walkertown, and it is the plans of the committee to supply all of these towns with small equipment with the big apparatus at California.

The Community Carnival will be of interest to Charleroi people as well as others throughout the Monongahela valley, and according to all arrangements large crowds are expected to patronize the affair every night during its operation.

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—
The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow [illegible] is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" for pipes, smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

She was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. Mary Farrell of Chicago, who will visit here for some time. Miss Anna Robinson returned home today, she having also visited in Chicago, but stopped off at Overbrooke to accompany Miss Helen Maines to her home, Miss Maines being a third member of the party.

"FOR SALE" COMING TO THE MAJESTIC

The return of the society drama is eloquently evidenced by the First National production, "For Sale," which is scheduled to open at the Majestic theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, a lavish photodrama of life in the upper strata.

"For Sale" is an original screen story by Earl Hudson, author of "Sundown," an epic of the cattle country. It was adapted to the screen by Fred Stanley, and directed by George Archainbaud.

Aside from the magnificent sets, "For Sale" has an all-star cast of exceptional calibre. The story deals with Eleanor Bates, daughter of the New York Four Hundred, whose father has embezzled a large sum of money from Joseph Hudley, a nouveau riche, and because of his obligations forces his daughter to accept the attentions and consequently become engaged to Hudley. The story is laid in New York and Paris, contrasting the scenes of social splendor in the former city, with scenes in the Montmartre district of Paris.

The Rebekah lodge, No. 299, will hold a basket picnic at Oakland park, Thursday afternoon, August 21. All members are invited to attend.

The Merry Members club held its regular meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Leonard Brand of First street, with a full attendance. The main diversions of the evening were sewing and social converse, followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon by the hostess and Mrs. Albert Brown. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Wagner of Meadow avenue.

Mrs. Charles Gerard entertained with a birthday party at her home in Crest avenue Sunday afternoon in honor of her daughter Virginia, who celebrated her seventh birthday anniversary. There were 16 little people present, who spent a happy afternoon in dancing, and playing games. Mrs. Gerard served a dainty luncheon [illegible] Devigne. Small blue baskets filled with candy were given each guest as favors. Miss Virginia was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Do You Realize That Your Old Upright Piano Is Out-of-Date?

Perhaps you would not like to be told this, but suppose you owned a car that was made even ten years ago, you would not want to get out on the streets with it.

Don't you believe the piano factories are improving their goods all the time?

It has always been considered that tone waves and tone quality is better in a Grand Piano. Today all of the leading piano factories are buildng their better pianos in the Grands. Some of the largest in the industry are building Grands only.

That is why we say you should have a Grand Piano. This is a Grand age and 1924 will be a Grand year. Last year more than one-third of the pianos built in the U. S. A. were Grands. This year perhaps will run something like one-half.

We are showing the small Baby Grands of reliable standard makes now from $635 to $800 and up. Reproducing Grands from $1500 up. We will take your old piano on exchange. Call today and look over our line of Grands in stock—Kurtzmann, Brambach, McPhail, Hazelton, Schroeder Bros.

MRS. BUSH TELLS OTHER WOMEN

How Pains in Side and Dragging Down Feelings Were Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Massena, N.Y.—"I had terrible pains in both my sides and a dragging-down feeling that affected me so that I could hardly walk, and I got rundown. A friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it and I have taken it with the best results. I do my housework and also some outdoor work on the farm. The Vegetable Compound has given me back my health and I can not praise it enough. I am perfectly willing that you should use these facts if my letter will help other women who still suffer."—Mrs. DELBERT BUSH, R. F. D. 1, Massena, N.Y.

The spirit of helpfulness shown in the letters we are constantly publishing is worthy of notice.

These women know by experience what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do. Your troubles are the same as theirs. Isn't it reasonable to expect the same results?

If you have pains and a dragging-down feeling and are nervous and irritable, profit by Mrs. Bush's experience and give the Compound a trial.

who can pitch nine-inning ball games, and there you are. Grimes carried his moist offerings to put a dampening effect on the cool August afternoon, and before the shades of evening were falling, the Minerva Mauler had stopped our streak. We were out after our tenth straight success, but did not reach double figures. The score was 6 to 4.

Outside of one inning Grimes had the Pirates practically eating out of his hand. On the other foot, Robbie's Wreckers hammered three Pittsburgh pitchers with a vengeance. The three who felt the spleen of Flatbush bats were Lee Meadows, Jeff Pfeffer and Arnold Stone. Meadows was suffering with a sore arm, but he thought he could pull through. The second inning saw Lee among the missing. Earl Smith batted and singled for Meadows with the bases jammed.

the Republican National Committee, conferred with the women and reminded them that the greatest patriotic peacetime service is an interest in politics and the business of government.

"Massachussetts is for Calvin Coolidge and will deliver the majority of the state's votes for him," declared Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, National committeewoman from Massachusetts, at the morning meeting.

"We hope to get out the largest woman's vote we ever had in Connecticut," was the report of Mrs. John Duss, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee of Connecticut.

"We are concentrating on the 'stay-at-home' woman, and we find that she is as much interested in politics as her sisters who go out more," Mrs. Russ continued.

Satisfactory reports were received from Mrs. George Orvis, national committeewoman from Vermont and from Mrs. W. Bladen Lowndes, national committeewoman from Maryland. Mrs. Orvis has resigned as mayor of Manchester, Vermont, in order to devote all of her energies to the winning of the campaign.

Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, national committeewoman from New York, outlined the complete organization of the women.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Hert complimented the women and said that their perfect organization left no doubt as to the success in the eastern states. Mrs. Hert announced the appointment of the woman head of the colored women's organization of the Republican National Committee. Miss Hallie Q. Browkn of Wilberforce, Ohio, the national chairman of the Colored Women's Federation, is to head the work.

Mrs. Sabin entertained the women at luncheon following the morning meeting.

of scholarship, citizenship and service, the judging being done by teachers and pupils, in cooperation with Legion committees. It is planned later to award scholarships to winning students which will enable them to attend college or university.

A vigorous fight for the next convention is in prospect, with Erie and Scranton the chief contenders. Erie, hitherto a weak point in the Legion's ranks, has mustered considerable strength and plans to invade Greensburg with one of the largest county delegations in the state.

Lines for the battle for commander and vice commander have not been drawn tightly as yet, but it is expected that the opening day will witness the efforts of rival candidates to win over the convention to their respective causes.

Among speakers at the convention will be Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Cyrus E. Woods, former ambassador to Japan; Sergeant G. C. Woodfill, decorated by General Pershing as the war's outstanding hero; John Thomas Taylor, head of the Legion's National legislative committee, credited with winning the fight for adjusted compensation; George A. Withers, chairman of the National Legion committee on child welfare, who will present the Legion plan to raise a fund for education of veterans' orphans; Dr. C. F. Hoban of Harrisburg, assistant director of the department of public education; William B. Healy, former state commander, now National vice commander; Marquis James, feature writer of the "American Legion Weekly," well known as the Legion's historian, and other Legion officials of this and neighboring states.
